

Out of Uniform “Pink & Blue” Day!

October is Respect Life Month and four area Catholic schools are excited to be taking part in an effort to assist Waterleaf Women’s Center in Aurora.

You can help support both the born and unborn babies as well as young mothers in the community that Waterleaf Women’s Center assists (all services are free) daily with material needs, education, and care. Waterleaf went medical in January of 2011 with the addition of an ultrasound machine and is now able to perform free ultrasounds, providing young women the opportunity to see the tiny life they are carrying! The mission statement of Waterleaf is;

“To assist those facing an unplanned pregnancy, regardless of their socioeconomic or religious background, by providing them the medical, counseling, educational, material, and community support necessary to realize their full potential as men and women created in God’s image.”

How it Works:

On Friday, October 18, 2013, you can dress out of uniform and wear pink or blue in support of the born and unborn babies in the community.

Kids are encouraged to do an extra chore around the house or for a neighbor to raise money or perhaps donate their weekly allowance and bring that in to school as their contribution for dressing out of uniform. Please make sure the children let their parents know why they are contributing!

October 18th is a special day, to celebrate Respect Life month in a unique way...

Bring a donation large or small

And dress in pink or blue, stand tall

to honor the beautiful born & unborn babies

(If checks are brought in, please make them payable to Waterleaf Women’s Center – thank you)
